ANARCHY'S CLOSING SCENB.

Innes, the most desperate and ferocious of he entire gang of Chicago Anarchists, hested the gallows to-day by nearly killng himself. That he should have been able to secure a bomb at this stage of the proceedings, is a severe reflection upon the loose ethods of the jailers.

This sensational development will increase possible, the interest of all Christendom in ne closing scenes of the tragedy of Anarchm enacted at Chicago.

It is not strange that London, Berlin, Paris and St. Petersburg look on with anxious conn. The dynamite movement was born of Old-World tyranny. It is a desperate reacon against evils that do not exist here. It is well that is should be stamped out, and thing will do it more effectively than to et justice take her course in Chicago.

THE WORLD presents, as is its wont, the allest and most graphic report of the present phases of this remarkable feature of nineenth century civilization.

THE BOODLE TRIALS.

Col. FELLOWS reiterates to a WORLD reter that he will " try the Boodle cases in sch order and as promptly as the impormee of each case and the interests of public natice shall demand."

Good! Shall CLEARY or SHELLS come first to the bar under this rule?

We do not doubt that Col. FELLOWS means hat he says. But neither he nor the public t realizes the full effect of the rejection by the voters, of the man who more than any other personified the purpose to push these

We do not like to predict that not another odle Alderman will be convicted. But we put upon record the belief that as a result of this election it will be found extremely difficult, if not impossible, to obtain another conviction in mility sometimes verifies the proverb as to and out! those who speak the truth.

Time will tell.

BARBLING THE TRUTH.

The editor of the Sun babbled the truth in this fashion when he advertised his dotage by confessing that his reason for abandoning the support of NICOLL " relates to THE WORLD itself." He has just blurted it again in whining to the editor of THE WORLD: "We wish that you had never come to New York."

"Pity the sorrows of a poor old man." He no longer knows how to lie with plausibility or to tell the truth with discretion.

CORPORATION RULE.

The Manhattan "L" has just held what is known as an election.

It does not appear how many voters par ticipated in this remarkable contest. Nor does it matter, for shekels, not men, controlled the polls. The United Plutocracy in the field swept everything before it. Of course a ringing series of resolutions were adopted by the directors, indorsing themselves and heartily approving their past policy. Armed with this indorsement, they naturally did not hesitate to unanimously realoot themselves.

The entire proceedings would be uniquely outrageous if not so familiar. Here is a publie highway, built in the public streets, dependent upon the public for its existence, its privileges, its patronage, its enormous dividends on its real cost. And yet the public has hardly a word to say about its management or mismanagement.

If this is not a legalized outrage, will some one please tell us what would be?

A TRIBUTE BOTH WAYS. Mr. NICOLL ran behind in every district where the Boodle Aldermen and their provocation. friends control politics. He ran ahead in every district where their influence was not

His analysis of the returns is most instructive. In CLEARY's district he got but 1,199 out of 6,000; in KIRK's, 841 out of 6,650; in O'NELL's, 1,882 out of 6,450; in SHELLS's, who presided at a Fellows meeting, only 1,487 out of 8,800; in JARRES's, with the "boss" in Bing Bing, 1,607 out of 6,560; in FARLEY'S.

1.891 out of 7,828, and so on. In Mr. NICOLA's own district, GRANT had 815 majority, while NICOLL's majority was 1,700-" an indorsement by ' the jury of the nage,' of which I have a right to be saoud," ho mid. In Boss Pown's district.

NICOLE ran 600 ahead of the Republican ticket. In all the better districts the record was the same. NICOLL received at least 25,000 of the best Democratic votes-an indorsement to be proud of.

OPEN THE DOORS.

Is it the Metropolitan Museum? Or is it the Puritanio Museum? If it is to be controlled by narrow Puritanie notions, let us change the name. But if it really is the Museum of the metropolis let it be conducted in accord with the almost unanimous sentiment of the people.

Open the doors on Sunday.

Are the treasures of art within its walls intended for the delectation of the few or for the benefit of the many? If it is meant to be the people's Museum, as is undoubtedly the case, then make it accessible to the toilers on the only day that they can visit it.

Open the doors on Sunday. Many excuses have been made why this cannot be done. None of them are adequate. The time is ripe for a more liberal policy. If any loan collection is in the way send it home. If the Trustees doubt the tone of public sentiment THE EVENING WORLD will enable them to learn what the people wish. Open the doors on Sunday.

MRS. CLEVELAND AT BRIDGEPORT. It is a very kindly and characteristic act on the part of Mrs. CLEVELAND to come all the way from Washington to Bridgeport to assist in the dedication of a home for working girls. Moreover, it is pleasant to note that Mrs. CLEVELAND declines to allow the "society' of Bridgeport to take up her time or interfere with the distinctive purpose of her visit. Two thousand working women are waiting to exclusively. Mrs. CLEVELAND could not pass her time at Bridgeport in better "society" than that of honest working women, or among those with a higher appreciation of her charming quali-

see her, and she will devote herself to them

Mr. FELLOWS will now have an opportunity which any public man might covet—that of disappointing his foes and critics by a clean, efficient Nett York Tribune.

THE WORLD has already expressed the hope that he will make the most of it. But Mr. FELLows has another opportunity—that of disappointing about 75 per cent, of the men who voted for him in the belief that he would be "easy" on law-breakers. We hope he will be equal to that also.

The accuracy of THE WORLD's election returns, surpassing those of all its esteemed contemporaries, is attested by the police returns. The vote for Cook was given in a 9 o'clock edition of THE WORLD at 110,272. The collected police returns make it 110,781. Some of the other papers had it 10,000 too small. The other World figures were more complete and correct than anything given on Wednesday morning.

THE WORLD is ahead with the news every time. It was the first paper to spread the story on the street to-day that Anarchist Lines had been nearly killed in his cell by a bomb. It is hardly necessary to add that the first news from Chicago to-morrow will appear promptly in extra editions of THE EVENING WORLD

DAN LAMONT hits the bull's-eye close to THE WORLD's shot when he says: "I do not see how the Republicans can hope to carry New York now. They had many things to their advantage in this contest, and if they were ever going to carry the State they Even that form of childhood known as should have done so this time." Six times

The former Republican majority of 60,000 in Iowa has been out down to a beggarly plurality of 18,000. One more year of fanaticism will make the State doubtful or JEM SMITH thinks that he can " beat SULLY-

VAN." The owners of several British yachts have been cock-sure they could beat the Yankee boats. But they didn't, all the same.

A bomb was never put to a better use than in blowing Lango's head off, even if it did chest justice.

St. Louis has an instalment of the serial story about directors who do not direct. To be continued.

A loss of 20,000 in the Democratic majority in Maryland shows how ring rule operates in that State. London's Lord Mayor should know better than to endeavor to compete with John L.'s show.

Major Pangborn Tells of the Bright Futu of the Road.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) PITTEBURG, Nov. 10 .- Major J. G. Pangborn, late Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Baltimore and Ohio, is in the city, and asked about the coming annual election for directors of the road, he said: think there is no doubt of the election of Mr. Spencer to the presidency and Mr. Lord to one of the vice-presidencies. For anything I may know, Mr. King is not to leave the Baltimore and Ohio. He is one of the brightest men in the railroad service in the United States. His work for the Baltimore and Ohio in its efforts to get into Philadelphia was wonderful, being both intelligent and effective. I feel confident that the snydicate will have nothing to say in the selection of the official list. It wants the road operated in an intelligent manner, knowing that if it is it will pay. Mr. Gorman, I hardly think, will be in the new directory.

ligent manner, knowing that if it is it will pay. Mr. Gorman, I hardly think, will be in the new directory.

He is anxious to get the bed of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Cumberland to Washington, in order to let in the West Verginia Central and Pittsburg road to Washington and Baltimore. It will not go his way for some time yet, however. The Baltimore and Ohio future is brighter now than ever. It will get into New York over the Reading and Bound Brook route, and become one of the best of the lines east of the Mississippi. The present complications will be safely disentangled, and the road will be all that its brightest prospects ever promised."

What I have to say about the fairness or unfairness of this trial. I have said in a little pamphlet which Your Excellency does me the honor to say you have already read. Yet I simply wish to add one appeal for mercy. Your Excellency, you were Mr. Lincoln's friend, your name is now history, and it must go down to posterity in company with his and like his. I hope to see it connected with the same holy blessings because of magnanimity and mercy. When our children unveil your statue, as they will some day, I believe the orators of that day will say, as the orators in the city of Chicago said three weeks ago, that the characteristics of the martyred President and your characteristics resemble one another, and that mercy was the crowning glory of your magistrature as it was crowning glory of your magistrature as it was of Abraham Lincoln. OPEN THE DOORS ON SUNDAY.

GIVE THE PEOPLE A CHANCE TO VISIT THE METROPOLITAN MUSEUM.

Gen. di Cesnola is in Favor of Opening th Museum on Sunday, But He Wants Money te de it With-He Thinks That the Mu seum Should be Endowed-Curator Goodyear Explains the Financial Situation.

Y the great majority of New York citizens, the opening added to its treasures.

Generous benefactors have so enriched its collection of paintings that it is the foremost picture gallery in the land. Judge Henry Hilton, Cornelius Vanderbilt, George I. y. Miss Catharine y, Miss Catharine L. Wolfe and several others have presented valuable works. The more perfect the Metropolitan becomes as an art gallery the stronger grows the feeling that its doors should be opened on Sundays. More persons could avail themselves of the chance to visit it on that day than on any other. Many can visit it on no other, and they are those who would enjoy visiting it they are those who would enjoy visiting it more than others, and who would profit greatly by it.

Nothing can be clearer than that an Institution for the benefit of the public should be made accessible to the public. Without doubt the Museum authorities, in setting apart certain days on which no fee should be charged for admission, selected those days with some consideration for the convenience of the public. There seems to be no sufwith some consideration for the convenience of the public. There seems to be no sufficient reason why the day of the week on which people can best come is not one of those on which the inuseum is thrown open.
That the Metropolitan Museum will admit the public to its exhibits on Sundays at no very distant time seems evident. It rests with the trustees to draw the bolt which bars

the doors to Sunday visitors.

An Evening World reporter called on Gen. Louis P. di Cemola, Director of the Museum, and Prof. William H. Goodyear, Curator of the Department of Paintings, to Curator of the Department of Paintings, to see what their views were on this point.

"If you ask my own personal feeling in the matter," said Gen. di Cesnela, "I am in favor of the Sunday opening. I have always been in favor of it. I was brought up in Italy, and all my visits to museums were made on Sundays. The views of the trustees on the point are their own, of course."

"Now, as director of the Museum," continued Gen. di Cesnela, "I can only say that if the Museum is to be opened on Sundays the additional expense for this must be defrayed. The building of the new wing and other outlays have considerably increased frayed. The building of the new wing and other outlays have considerably increased our expenses. The Museum should be endowed. If there were money enough, I would open it on Sundays, light the gas and give a free lunch," he added, pleasantly. "The money for running the museum is chiefly drawn from private contributions. There is need of a permanent fund. The work and the aveneses of the Museum are work and the expenses of the Museum are increasing yearly. This coming year they will be heavier than ever, owing to the new wing. About forty-two men are necessary for the work of the Museum. Catalogues have to be printed, cases have to be made, the building has to be heated, and so on. All these things cost money, and the money is

Mr. Goodyear expressed his own view as entirely favorable to the Sunday opening. "Possibly there is in the public mind a slightly erroneous idea in regard to the Metropolitan Museum of Art," said he. "Many look on it as an entirely public institution, and hence feel that if the public demands the Sunday opening the doors must be thrown open. This is not quite correct. It is more truly a private institution, composed of wealthy gentlemen and patrons of art. True, the city allows it an annual appropriation, and in consideration of this the public is admitted free four days in the week. The city's annual appropriation to the Metropolitan Museum of Art and to the Museum of Natural History is $15,000 to each. Last year the city offered to add $5,000 more if the museums would open on Sundays. The Museum of Natural History was inclined to do so, but the Metropolitan did not accept the offer. This year the city has done nothing more in the matter.

She Starts for Bridgeport this Morning to Open the Working Girls' Home. A carriage was waiting in front of Mrs. Sylvanus Reed's school, in East Fifty-third street, to convey Mrs. Cleveland and her mother, Mrs. Folsom, to the Grand Central Depot, when an Evening World reporter called this morning.

Both Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Folsom were engaged in completing the arrange ments for their trip. Mrs. Reed, however, received THE WORLD man pleasantly and in reply to his inquiries said that Mrs. Cleveland was "just visiting her sister-in-law, Miss Cleveland, who is here."

"She leaves in a very few minutes now," Mrs. Reed continued, "and is going to Bridgeport to attend the opening of the Working Girls' Home."

"Will Mrs. Cleveland go directly to Washington after leaving Bridgeport?" asked the reporter.

SCATTEREL BY A MAD DOG.

Boys Had Been Bitten. A number of children who were playing in East Twenty-sixth street on Wednesday afternoon scattered in terror at the appearance of a mad dog that dashed among them, snarling and snapping right and left. James McWonand, four years right and left. James McWonand, four years old, of No. 219 East Twenty-sixth street, and Thomas Monks, thirteen years old, of No. 436 Second avenue, were not quick enough and were bitten on the leg. The McWonand boy had reached his home and was making a desperate effort to run up the stoop when the sharp fang of the cur punctured the fleshy part of his leg.

Policeman Michael Offeldt arrived at this moment, drew a revolver, took good aim.

moment, drew a revolver, took good aim, and put a bullet in the dog's body, bringing him down. Two more well-directed bullets in the brain killed the beast.

The two bitten boys were removed to a dispensary, where their wounds were cauterized. Then they were sent home.

ELEVATED RAILROAD FIGURES. Nearly Half a Million Tickets Dropped in the Boxes Dully. The annual business statement of the Manhattan Railway Company contains some interesting statistics. For instance, in round numbers one hundred and fifty-nine millions of nickels were passed in to the ticket sellers for fares, and that number of "pink trip slips" were dropped into the ticket boxes on the four elevated roads. This means that nearly half a million, or, to be exact, 435,000, passengers are carried daily.

Of course the Third avenue line does more business than any of the others. It carried 66,575,454 passengers last year, or about 182,000 every day. That was more than twice the business of the Second avenue line, a third more than the Sixth avenue line did, four times as much as was done by the Ninth avenue line, and more than was done by the Sixth and Ninth avenue line stogether.

The gross income of the Manhattan was $8,102,662; operating expenses, $4,970,449 and net income, $3,132,212. of nickels were passed in to the ticket sellers

ON THE WATCH FOR CHOLERA. The Burgundin's Passengers Landed-More

Italians Quarantined. Health Officer Smith permitted the 264 Italian immigrants on the Bergundia to land this morning. The vessel arrived last Sunday from the Mediterranean and was detained at Quarantine for observation. Both passengers and ship have been thoroughly cleansed and disinfected and no sign of cholera was discovered. The steamship Eubella arrived from the Mediterranean this morning. She has 210 immigrants on board, and although they are in good health, they and the vessel will be detained for observation.

The detained passengers of the Alesia and Britannia are doing well, although measles

TWO FIREMEN INJURED.

A Hook and Ladder Truck Upset in Turning Too Sharp a Curve. While returning from a chimney fire at the residence of Mr. Charles C. James Satiler, foreman, escaped with a gash on the head and some severe bruises, but William Dennis, the driver, broke his knee-cap. He held on to the reins pluckily, and prevented the frightened horses from running away.

The accident was caused by an attempt to turn too short a curve. This is a common error among firemen.

The First in the Market. One of the interesting eights in Fulton market this morning was a consignment of fresh caught Kennebec salmon to Middleton & Carman, the very first that has been received in the market this year. There were eight in all, one of them weighing over twelve pounds, and beauties they were, as they layltogether on the white marble sisb, showing their slock, glistening sides and symmetrical forms.

The first fresh salmon in the market are always regarded as fancy fish, and these, of course, were snapped up early in the morning by eager purchasers. The price at which they were sold was 80 centes a pound. After this time receipts may be expected to be more liberal, and prices will decline, sithough fresh salmon never becomes a drug on the market.

Young but Violent Partisans. Twelve-year-old William Lyon was held at the Essex Market Court this morning for knuling ten-year old Imac Kupfer, and politics is alleged to be the cause of the difficulty. William and other juvenile patriots were celebrating the Democratic victory by a bondre in Ruigers Square when Isaac, who is suspected of Republican tondencies, came along, was hooted and finally was stabbed in the back. William tearfully said it was an accident. Many Burglaries on Long Island. Burglaries on the north side of Long Island are ecoming frequent. Within two or three weeks about twelve or fourteen houses have been robbed in the township of Flushing and thus far no clue has been obtained of the burglar.

News Notes from Brooklyn.

The trial of Policeman Stack, of the Flatbush police, who is accused of shooting into a party of excursionists at the Bridge Dock, a month of so ago, was begun before Judge Walsh this morning. The inquest into the death of Joan Leiza, who was shot and killed in Front street, Brooklyn, during a quarrel with Antonio Meta over a game of carda, will be held next Monday evening. Meta denies that he killed Letza.

Martin Arnude, a clerk in a grocery store at 907 De Kaib avenue, Brooklyn, was arrested last night on complaint of Lillie Hoffman, seventeen years of age, who charged him with attempting to assault her while she was purchasing goods in the stere. Coroner Rooney and a jury will this evening hold an inquest into the discumstances surrounding the death of Edward limith, who, it is slieged, while resisting arrest in Brooklyn last Saturday evening was knocked down by Foliosman O'Des, receiving lajuries from which he died a few hours later.

ON STAGES HERE AND THERE

A. M. PALMER'S COMPANY TO DESCEND ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Cast of "The Great Pink Pearl" on the Road-Good Business Done at the Theas tres on Election Day-Mr. Sethern May Join the Adonis Club-Coming Changes

TOUR of the Pacific coast will be made by Manager A. M. Pal. mer's entire company next summer, contracts to that effect having been made vesterday with Mr. Al. Hayman, of San Francisco. These contracts were simply to carry out an arrangement which was made last year, by which the same company was to visit San Francisco last summer. Owing, however, to the phenomenal success of "Jim the Penman," which scored an eight weeks' run in Boston during the summer, Mr. Hayman consented to allow the Madison Square Company to defer their visit to the Pacific until the coming summer. The contract calls for the complete company, and such plays that may have been produced during the New York season. Mr. Hayman says he would be satisfied with "Jim the Penman," without any other plays, but Mr. Palmer-who like Mr. Daly, is extremely anxious for glory, though by no means despising lucre desires to show the versalitity of his company by presenting other plays. Besides the tour, which extends west now to San Francisco and back, the city of Chicago is now incorporated in Mr. Hayman's contract. The company's season in Chicago was formerly under the management of Mr. McVicker of that city. Mr. Palmer's people will have a special train provided for them, and will make the trip to San Francisco in three days and a half.

It is quite likely that William Gillette will play in "The Great Pink Pearl" in this city during the season. In fact, there is no saying what Mr. Gillette will do, in his overwhelming energy. The cast of the people who are to support him in "The Great Pink Pearl" on the road, includes Charles Bradshaw, Raymond Holmes, William Cotton, Frank Carlyle, Mme. de Naucaze, Miss Leslie, Miss Sydney Cowell, Miss Loring, little Elsie and Hardy Vernon.

It is rumored that Messrs. Robson and Crane will show their versatility by becom-ing their own managers next year, and that the energetic Mr. Joseph Brooks will have to seek fresh fields. Mr. Brooks has been the manager of this company for three sea-

The changes which have been made in "Wife" at the Lyceum, render that play far more concise in form. It will stay where it is. Prof. W. Frohman has suspended all the rehearsals for subsequent work. There will be no change of programme as Wallack's Theatre for several days, "Caste" still proving exceedingly attractive to large audiences. The rehearsals of "School" are so far advanced that this second of the Robertsonian series will be ready for production next week. Mr. Abbey had been greatly encouraged in his reproduction of these celebrated plays by the large patronage they are evidently intended to create. As soon as "School" is produced, "Forget-Me-Not" will be put in rehearsal.
